Arizona Board of Psychologists Examiners	Phone: (602) 542-8162 Website: Click here	1. The Governor made the declaration on March 11, 2020. 2. Possibly - the Executive Order states: This declaration will provide licensing boards the authority to waive professional licensure requirements, which will support Arizona in maintaining a robust healthcare workforce. 3. Arizona has a statute establishing certain exemptions for licensure including "A person who resides outside of this state and who is currently licensed or certified to practice psychology at the independent level by a licensing jurisdiction of the United States or Canada if the activities and services conducted in this state are within the psychologist's customary area of practice, do not exceed twenty days per year and are not otherwise in violation of this chapter and the client or patient, public or consumer is informed of the limited nature of these activities and services and that the psychologist is not licensed in this state. A person may exceed the twenty-day limitation requirement of this paragraph to assist in public service that is related to a disaster as acknowledged by the board."
District of Columbia	Phone: Email: Website: Click here	DC has issued an Administrative Order addressing licensure waiver and providing guidance as it relates to telehealth for all Health Professionals. The Order will remain in effect during the period of Public Health Emergency as declared by the Mayor. Information has been placed on www.coronavirus.dc.gov and sent to all active licensees.

Louisiana Board of Psychologist Examiners	Phone: (225) 925-6511 Email: admin@lsbep@la.gov Website: Click here	1. Yes, the Governor has issued an emergency proclamation. 2. We have statutory and regulatory provisions in place for emergency temporary registrations to provide services gratuitously. That information is available on the home page of our website: www.lsbep.org . An individual must obtain full licensure or a fully vetted (non-emergency) temporary registration to charge fees for services. 3. Yes, any individual who is licensed or registered in Louisiana may provide psychological services to the citizens of Louisiana. Telepsychology does require licensure, but does not currently require a special certification. It is expected that regardless of the mode of delivery of services, psychologists practice within the limits of their competencies and in accordance with any statutory and regulatory requirements, including adherence to the ethics code; and in accordance with guidelines and best practice guidelines adopted by the board.
